HOW TAFT WENT TO THE PHILIPPINES

Tells Story of McKinley's Request For Him To Be Governor

NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 13.—President-elect William H. Taft, speaking tonight at the dedication of the McKinley memorial organ in Metropolitan Temple, told an audience which repeatedly interrupted him with applause the story of his official association with the late President. Taft declared with reference to the Philippine Islands that the policy laid down by McKinley in 1898 had been the policy of the present, as it will be the policy of his own administration in the White House. Andrew Carnegie and John J. McCook also spoke.

"It was in February, 1900," said Taft, in relating the personal narrative of his resignation from the bench and entry into public life, which, in eight years has brought him to the Presidency, "that I received from Mr. McKinley a telegram which read like this: 'If you have no other engagement you will do me a great favor by calling on me in Washington some time next week.'"

Called to the Philippines
"I did not know of any vacancy existing on the Supreme Court bench at that time, but I went to Washington just the same. Arriving at the White House I was ushered into the Cabinet room and there I met the President. 'Judge,' said he, 'I'd like to have you go to the Philippines.' I said, 'Mr. President, what do you mean by going to the Philippines?' He replied: 'We must establish a government there and I would like you to help.' 'But, Mr. President,' I said, 'I am sorry we have got the Philippines. I don't want them and I think you ought to have some man who is more in sympathy with the situation.'"

"You don't want them any less than I do," replied the President. 'But we have got them and in dealing with them I think I can trust the man who didn't want them better than I can the man who did.'"

Expected Seat on Bench
"You can readily understand," continued Mr. Taft, "the feelings of a man whose only object in going to Washington was in the hope of find-

DRIER PLACE LEASED TO U. S.

F. A. Schaefer and Cecil Brown, executors of the will of August Dreier, this morning asked permission of the Court to lease the Dreier place at Walkiki to the United States Government, the latter to take possession at once, at an annual rental equal to 7 per cent. per annum on a valuation of the whole property at $14,250.

The United States will condemn this land later on, and take it over for garrison purposes, the reason for the lease being that possession is wanted of the land right away, while the condemnation proceedings will take considerable time. An agreement was reached leasing the property.

The interest of August Dreier, deceased, in the property amounts to $11,043.75; the interest of Mrs. Emma Dreier (exclusive of her dower right) amounts to $1066.75; and the interest of Adele Dreier is named at $2137.50.

Miss Ruby Abrams, who was recently graduated at the head of the art class in Cooper Institute, New York, is deaf and until a few years ago was also dumb.  ing a vacant cushion on the Supreme Court bench to be asked to go 10,000 miles from home. But after I had talked with Mr. McKinley and with Secretary Root I decided I would go, and in a hurry."

Taft said that it was the cause of deepest sorrow to McKinley that it was necessary to secure tranquility in the Philippines through the exercise of the sword, adding: "We are trying to educate the people in the islands and to teach them through partial self-government to attain the point where ultimately they will be able to govern themselves."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13.—James S. Henry, Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press has been appointed chairman of the press committee and Charles H. Hoyt of New York vice chairman of the committee on finance for the inauguration of William H. Taft on March 4 next. Major General Barry, commanding the Army of Cuban Pacification, has been designated to command the regular army division of the inaugural parade and Rear Admiral Sperry, commanding the Atlantic Battleship Fleet, will command the naval division.

HOW TO REFORM WHILE YOU'RE ASLEEP

Rev. Rose Explains System Of Correction On Modern Lines

The Rev. Henry C. Rose, in the Church of the Redeemer, Newark, N. J., of which he is pastor, declares that every fault, sin, or crime could be prevented, every bad habit cured, by mental suggestion given in homeopathic doses while the patient slept. "Show me one hundred children addicted to swearing, lying, or other vice and I will reform thirty-five merely by sitting down beside their beds as they sleep and talking to them," Mr. Rose said. "Forty-five of the Hundred will be greatly benefited by the treatment, and only twelve will fail entirely to respond."

"By sleep I do not mean hypnotic sleep. Natural rest is far more preferable to the neurologist for this kind of work. Then, although the conscious self is wide awake and on the alert. The sub-conscious self never sleeps. It is keenly susceptible to suggestion and asserts itself to abide by such suggestions when the conscious self is aroused."

Good for Adults
Mr. Rose cited an instance in which he and the Rev. Elwood Worcester, pastor of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church of Boston, engaged jointly, in which 100 children were "treated" for depravity with the result he outlined.

"While the mind of a child is more susceptible to mental suggestion during sleep than that of an adult," continued Mr. Rose, "the adult can be reformed by persistency. I know of women whose homes were made unhappy who reformed their husbands by waiting until the latter slept, then sitting down beside their beds and talking to them. One, whose husband drank, told me that she spoke about as follows: 'I am going to have a little talk with you, Henry. You will not awake, because I am going to tell you pleasant things, and because I will not harm you, but love you, you will listen. You will not be alarmed, but will listen to me closely, because we will both be very happy.'"

NEW MACHINE WILL MACERATE ALGEROBA

How to macerate algeroba beans has been solved, it is believed. C. W. Renear of this city has perfected a machine which it is claimed, will perform the task satisfactorily. Application for patents covering the original points of Renear's invention have already been forwarded to Washington. The algeroba bean makes a fine fodder, the only drawback to its general use, heretofore, having been an inability to find a machine which will macerate the beans. The pulp of the beans is so sticky that it is inclined to gum up any machine and put it out of business. It is claimed that this obstacle has been successfully overcome in the Renear machine.

KEIZO WILL BE REPRIEVED AGAIN

Morito Keizo will receive another lease on life. Acting Attorney General Whitney has heard from Hemenway in Washington, stating that he is bringing the mandates of the Supreme Court with him. This means that the mandate for Keizo's execution will not arrive here until January 15, while Keizo's last reprieve gave him until the 7th to live.

Another reprieve will be made out, extending the date of his execution until after Hemenway has returned from Washington. The authorities here would not carry out the execution without the mandate of the Supreme Court.

Dr. O. L. Elliott, registrar of Stanford University, discusses trouble with students, and editor of Sequoia replies.  ly, she then spoke positively: 'Tomorrow, when you will have finished your work, you will not go to the club and drink and carouse. You will return home, where you will find a good dinner and a happy family. The evening you will spend with me, because I will entertain you so that you will not want to leave.'"

"The next day the husband came home as his wife said he would, forgot his club, and soon, after persisting in the treatment, the wife had entirely cured him. If such treatment is beneficial to husbands it will be good for wives, too. They might be kept from immorality in spending or dress, and many unhappy homes would be brightened."

TAFT, ROCKEFELLER, CARNEGIE ALL GOING

Are Sure of Heaven So Countess Oracle Says

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 4.—William H. Taft is going to heaven when he dies, and there is hope that John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie will go, too.

This is the statement made today by Countess Aurelia Bethlen, the Benedictine teacher, who, three weeks ago, announced her arrival in Chicago on her missionary journey around the world. She does not speak of a definite heaven, however, for her belief is that heaven is a condition, not a place.

She says that Mr. Taft will merit a divine reward, after the tribulations that he will meet during his tenure of office, and that if Messrs. Carnegie and Rockefeller can avoid dying until 1917, when the millennium will begin, they may be saved. A great change is coming over the world, according to the countess. The world is getting better. People are paying more attention to religion, even if they do not go to church as regularly. This is the beginning of the change. But before the nine years are over and the year 1917 appears, the world will suffer dire calamities, which must be undergone by all people as penitence. But the people will not know this, and they will blame their governments for their misfortunes.

Because America is so money-mad, Americans will suffer the greatest of trials, and Mr. Taft will get the greatest blame. Therefore, his trials will have been the most woeful, but he will be sure of happiness after death, says the visitor.

Countess Bethlen declares Carnegie is misguided in buying libraries instead of food for the poor. Mr. Rockefeller, she says, can only save himself by "grasping the strong rope of salvation."

Forestry in Sweden, under the direction of a royal commission, resulted last year in supplying wood, lumber, and other forest products to the value of $13,250,000, and yet accumulated timber resources by a growth of twice the amount of the standing timber felled.

SANTA CLAUS WILL LAY OVER AT MIDWAY

Santa Claus Pitts will probably set a new precedent for old Kris Kringle and remain and celebrate Christmas Day with the good folk to whom he carries Christmas cheer. The Florence Ward, which is now at Midway, will probably remain there until the 26th or 27th, that the castaways may have the genial captain with them to help make merry.

This Christmas trip of the Florence Ward has proved a joyful affair to more than one person. Not only were dainties of all kinds carried to the cable company's employees, but a band of Japanese stowaways, starving on a barren island, was picked up. The Florence Ward is expected here about January 10 next, unless heavy seas delay her.

CHIEF CLERK HAS GAINED 5 POUNDS

Lloyd Conkling has written from Kona to his friends here, stating that his vacation has already done him worlds of good. He has gained five pounds already, and it is to be feared that, if the alarming increase continues, Lloyd will have to quit eating lunch as well as dinner. The strain of election time, and the hard work attendant thereto made it necessary that the genial Chief Clerk should lead the simple life for a short time, and this he is doing in Kona.

TALKS WITH LURLINE

Nine hundred miles out at sea, the Matson liner Lurline was in communication with Kahuku Point wireless station for quite a while last night. The Lurline reported pleasant weather and all well on board. The spark was clear and distinct, and the atmospheric conditions seemed ideal for wireless sending.

The appointment of Count Jacques Aldebert de Chambrun as French military attaché at Washington will probably be followed soon by other changes in the personnel of the embassy. His brother, Viscount Charles de Chambrun, secretary of embassy, and M. des Portes de la Fosse, counselor, may be transferred. Captain de Chambrun's wife is a sister of Nicholas Longworth.

Federal Grand Jury Brings In 22 Indictments

Twenty-two indictments were brought in by the Federal Grand Jury this morning, the majority of them concerning the ring leaders in the wholesale slave traffic that United States District Attorney Breckons has unearthed. Four people were arrested yesterday in this connection, on warrants sworn out by Breckons, but they have not as yet been indicted by the Grand Jury.

Three indictments were brought in against Yoshi Kuwano, charging him with keeping an alien woman for immoral purposes. A Japanese woman by the name of Kuwano was also indicted on three counts of the same charge.

"Hundred-dollar-note" Isot was indicted on six counts for harboring alien woman, Iwana Tsurumaki and Miya Takizawa, and keeping them for immoral purposes. Isot's wife, Chise, was indicted on six counts for the same charge.

Fugi Kajima was indicted on a charge of illicit distilling. Three couples were indicted for violation of the Edmunds Act.

HAD LOVE FEAST

The Republican County Committee and the Republican Supervisors-elect held a meeting last night in the office of A. F. Judd. The press was not allowed to be present, but it appears that the meeting was sort of a general love feast, at which it was explained that the misunderstandings which had arisen between the County Committee, the Central Committee and the Supervisors had all been amicably settled, and that now everything was serene. The Supervisors agreed to submit questions to the County Committee.

Two years ago James H. Rowland, a farmer who lives near Eatontown, N. J., bought an old violin at an auction sale for $2. A few days ago a man who knows something about the value of musical instruments examined Farmer Rowland's $2 violin and advised him it was worth $6000.
